Terms and Conditions

By submitting the application form and participating in the IUI International Dance Intensive – Vranje 2026, the participant (or their parent/legal guardian) confirms that they have read, understood and agree to the following terms and conditions.

Participation and Health Responsibility

Participation in the program is voluntary. Dance training is a physically demanding activity and involves inherent risks of injury.

The organizers, teachers, staff, partners and hosting institutions shall not be held responsible or liable for any injuries, accidents, illnesses, health conditions or physical complications that may occur before, during or after participation in the program.

Participants take part in all classes, rehearsals, activities and training sessions at their own risk.

Each participant is responsible for ensuring that they are physically and medically able to participate in intensive dance training.

The organizers do not provide medical supervision and are not responsible for medical conditions that may arise during the program.

Medical Information and Emergency Care

Participants are responsible for providing accurate medical information in the application form, including allergies, medical conditions or injuries.

In case of injury or medical emergency, the organizers may contact emergency services or seek medical assistance if necessary.

Any medical treatment, transportation, medication or hospital costs are the sole responsibility of the participant or their parent/legal guardian.

The organizers are not responsible for any medical expenses related to participation in the program.

Personal Responsibility and Supervision

Participants are responsible for their own behavior, safety and well-being during the program.

The organizers do not assume legal guardianship or full-time supervision of participants.

Participants are responsible for themselves outside scheduled classes and official activities.

The organizers are not responsible for:

- participants during free time
- personal travel arrangements
- accommodation arranged independently by participants
- personal decisions or activities outside the official program

Parents or guardians of minors remain legally responsible for the participant at all times.

Personal Belongings

Participants are responsible for their personal belongings, equipment and valuables.

The organizers are not liable for loss, theft or damage to personal property during the program, including in studios, accommodation facilities, transportation or public spaces.

Accommodation and Meals

Accommodation and meals are organized for participants who select the residential package.

While meals are provided, the organizers do not guarantee accommodation of all dietary restrictions.

The organizers are not responsible for food allergies, intolerances, dietary reactions or medical issues related to meals provided during the program.

Participants with specific dietary or medical needs are responsible for managing their own requirements.

Conduct and Behavior

Participants are expected to behave respectfully towards teachers, staff, accommodation personnel and other participants.

Any behavior that disrupts the program, damages property, endangers other participants or shows lack of respect may result in immediate removal from the program.

In such cases no refund will be issued.

Participants may also be responsible for any damages caused to facilities, equipment or accommodation property.

Photography, Video and Media Use

During the program, photographs and video recordings may be taken for documentation and promotional purposes.

By participating in the program, participants (or their legal guardians) grant permission for the organizers to photograph, film and record them during classes, rehearsals and other program activities.

These materials may be used for:

- educational purposes
- promotional materials
- websites and social media
- press and media publications
- future program promotion

No financial compensation will be provided for the use of such materials.

Transportation

Transportation if organized as part of the program is provided for convenience only.

The organizers are not responsible for travel delays, transportation disruptions, accidents or circumstances beyond their control.

Participants remain responsible for their own travel arrangements outside the organized transportation.

Payments and Refund Policy

All participation fees are non-refundable.

Payment confirms the participant's place in the program.

If a participant cancels, withdraws or decides not to attend after payment has been made, no refund will be issued.

The organizers are not responsible for any travel costs, accommodation reservations or other expenses incurred by participants.

Program Changes

The organizers reserve the right to make reasonable changes to the program if necessary, including but not limited to:

- schedule adjustments
- faculty changes
- accommodation arrangements
- class structure
- program activities

Such changes do not constitute grounds for a refund.

Force Majeure

The organizers shall not be held responsible for cancellation, interruption or modification of the program due to circumstances beyond their control, including but not limited to:

- natural disasters
- government restrictions
- public health emergencies
- transportation disruptions
- political or security situations
- other unforeseen events

In such cases refunds may not be possible.

Legal Responsibility and Consent

Participants 18 years of age or older may sign the application form themselves.

Participants under 18 years of age must have the application form signed by a parent or legal guardian, who accepts full responsibility for the participant and agrees to all conditions of participation.
